

PRONOUN : OTHER TYPES OF PRONOUN

pronoun is a word that replaces a name in a sentence. Pronouns are used to avoid repeating the same nouns over and over again.

TYPES OF PRONOUNS

1. PERSONAL PRONOUNS

personal pronouns are used as a substitute for a person's name. There are two kinds Subjective and Objective pronouns. In other words, they either act as the subject of a sentence or the object of the sentence.

Examples: Subjective pronouns (I, you, he, she)

a They went to the store

b I don't want to leave

c He owns a great shop in town

d You can't leave now

Examples of objective pronouns (me, you, her, him, it, us, them)

a. Please, don't sit beside me.

b Go and talk to her.

c Mary put the gift under it.

d Don't look at them.

2 POSSESSIVE PRONOUN

Possessive pronouns show ownership or possession of a noun. They are:

My, Our, yours, his, her, its (note, there is no apostrophe), their.

Examples:

a Is that my book?

b No, that's his book.

c That's its shelf

d I'd like to see their scores.

There are also independent possessive pronouns. These pronouns refer to a previously named or understood noun. They stand alone and are not followed by any other noun. They are: mine, ours, yours, his, hers, its, theirs
