

NOUN PHRASE

A phrase is a group of words with a headword has no finite verb and cannot make a complete sentence.

A noun phrase is a group of words with a noun as the head word.

Noun phrase can be formed using article (a, an), modifiers (long, short, red, dark, that), possessive (my, his, her, ours, mine), numbers (ten, one, four):

Eg: The team, an egg, a ball.

That table, those girls, long pencil

my kettle, your book, their textbooks

ten students, five tables.

Examples in sentences:

The driver almost hit a goat.

my kettle is on the shelf.

she could not get sharp blade.

five boys went on the excursion.

functions of Noun phrase:

1. subject of the verb: When the noun phrase stands as the subject in the sentence. It usually come before the verb in that sentence.

E.g. The old man still sings very well.
N.P. V

The winner of the contest has taken the trophy.
N.P. V

Laughing at people (is) a bad habit.

2. object of the verb: When the noun phrase stands as the object in the sentence. It usually comes after the verb in that sentence.

E.g. she (saw) a tall American girl.

Mary (knows) the right direction.

He (lost) three home work books.