

Week 2

Theme: speech (oral)

Unit Topic: listening Comprehension

Lesson Topic: listening to debates for main point and passing judgment.

Debate is argument between two groups in which the speaker is expected to argue logically in supporter against a given topic. It aims at convincing the reader or the audience to share in the opinion or viewpoints of the speaker.

The debate is between girls and boys on the topic: Girls should be given equal educational opportunity as their male counterparts.

Points for proposing

1. Before God, there is equality of all men
2. An educated girl makes a better wife. Men look out for good manners and intelligence. Women who will impart her knowledge to her children.
3. If a girl is well educated, she will have a good job and be less dependent on the husband and relative.
4. An educated girl will be a role model to her children.

Opposing

1. God created man to be the head and not equal to a woman
2. If girls have equal educational opportunities as have male counterparts, lack of respect for the man will thrive in families when they are married and this will surely lead to divorce.
3. Girls who are educated turn out to be working class mothers. Most working class are so occupied with office work that they hardly have time for their husbands and children.
4. The family tree is built on the male members. So the male should have an edge over the female.
