

REPORT WRITING

Meaning:

A report is a formal written account of an event, investigation, or situation. It presents facts, findings, and sometimes recommendations.

TYPES OF REPORT WRITING

1. Incident Report

Meaning:

A report written to explain what happened during an unexpected event such as an accident, fight, theft, or fire.

Features:

Written in past tense

Answers what, where, when, how, and who

Clear and factual

Example Topics:

Report on a fight in school

Report on a fire outbreak

2. Accident Report

Meaning:

A report that gives details of an accident and its effects.

Features:

Past tense

Gives cause and result

Includes injuries and damage

Example Topics:

Road accident

Laboratory accident

3. Investigation Report

Meaning:

A report written after examining a problem to find its cause and solution.

Features:

Formal language

Logical arrangement

May include recommendations

Example Topics:

Investigation into poor academic performance

Investigation into lateness in school

4. School Report

Meaning:

A report about school activities or events.

Features:

Simple formal language

Factual and well-organised

Written by a student or prefect

Example Topics:

Report on Inter-House Sports

Report on Cultural Day

5. Eyewitness Report

Meaning:

A report written by someone who personally saw an event happen.

Features:

First-hand information

Past tense

Clear sequence of events

Example Topics:

Eyewitness report of an accident

Eyewitness report of a robbery

6. News Report

Meaning:

A report written for newspapers, radio, or television.

Features:

Headline

Short paragraphs

Answers the 5Ws and H (What, When, Where, Who, Why, How)

Example Topics:

Flood disaster in a community

School competition victory

7. Committee Report

Meaning:

A report written by a group appointed to carry out a task.

Features:

Formal tone

Includes findings and recommendations

Often ends with conclusion

Example Topics:

Report of sanitation committee

Report of disciplinary committee

FORMAT OF A REPORT

1. Title
2. Introduction
3. Body
4. Conclusion
5. Signature
6. Date

LANGUAGE FEATURES OF REPORT WRITING

Formal language

Past tense

Clear paragraphs

No slang or abbreviations