

SS1 ENGLISH LANGUAGE NOTE

Reading comprehension

Comprehension is a process of reading, understanding and explaining what is written in a passage

Question method used in comprehension

- a. Direct question
- b. Mechanical
- c. Quotation
- d. Word class
- e. Grammatical
- f. Contextual
- g. Figure of speech questions

Direct questions are questions that don't have any technique. The answer must be from the passage. E.g. According to the passage, what happened to the writer?

Mechanical questions are questions that ask students to state the functions of mechanical devices (punctuation marks) in the passage.

Word class questions are used in asking students to change certain underlined words from one class to another. E.g change some nouns to adjectives