

Theme: Continuous Writing.

Unit topic: article writing

Lesson Topic: Article writing (introduction, illustration and practice).

An article is a piece of writing on national or regional issues of public interest, usually meant for publication in a magazine or a newspaper. Note that in writing an article, the writer expresses his /her views or opinion on a given topic with good and logical points or facts.

Features/format of an Article

A. The title: It should be clearly written. Eg:

The falling standard of Education in Nigeria

B. Introduction: This paragraph should introduce your topic or review whether people have written previously on the topic

C. Body: This should contain relevant points discussed extensively and logically to give a clear understanding of the topic in question. Points raised should be discussed and arranged in paragraphs

D. Conclusion: This is where the writer makes suggestions for solutions.

E. Closure: It requires only the name of the writer and location where he/she is writing from. Furthermore, your location should be your class in the school if the article is meant for a school publication. On the other hand, your location should be the state from which you write if the article is meant for a national publication. Note that Signature is not needed!

NOTE, the language of an article is formal and straight forward. Slangs are not required.

Some article topics for publication include:

1. Insecurity in Nigeria.
2. Unemployment problem in the country.
3. High rate of kidnapping / human trafficking in Nigeria.
4. The falling standard of education in Nigeria.
5. Drug abuse among Nigerian youths.
