

Expository Essay

The word exposition means a clear and detailed explanation

therefore an expository essays is an essay whose dluty is to explain. In writing an expository essay, the writer explains a process, a thing or an idea by carefully selecting the relevant things and arraging them in an orderly and coherent manner.

In order to give a clear and detailed explanation in an expository essay, the writer must be competent and have a clear idea of what he or she is explaining.

Examples of Topics of a Good Expository Essay

1. How to write an essay.
2. Why gardening is my hobby.
3. How to make Soya bean milk.

Note:

An expository essay is the type of essay we wrife when we want to inform, instruct and/ or explain a process.

Features of a Good Expository Essay

The features of a good expository essay include the following:

1. Examples
2. Illustrations
3. Explanations
4. Adequate description giving attention to details
5. Sufficient information.

