Date:

Class: SS 1

Time:

Period

Duration:

Subject: English Language

Week: Six

Unit Topic: Continuous Writing

Lesson Topic: Book Keeping

Teaching Method: Inquiry–Based Learning (IBL)

Specific (Behavioural) Objectives:

At the end of the lesson, students should be able to:

- explain the meaning of Book Keeping in their own words,
- identify the importance of Book Keeping,
- write a well-organised continuous essay on Book Keeping,
- use appropriate paragraphing and vocabulary in writing.

Instructional Resources:

Sample cashbook/ledger, notebook, whiteboard, chart showing simple income and expenditure record.

LESSON PRESENTATION (INQUIRY–BASED LEARNING STEPS)

Step 1: ENGAGE (Questioning / Prior Knowledge)

Mode: Entire Class

Teacher's Activities:

- Displays a sample cashbook/ledger or draws a simple income and expenditure table on the board.
- Asks probing questions such as:
 - What do you think this book is used for?
 - Who might use this kind of record?
 - What could happen if money is not properly recorded?

Students' Activities:

Observe the material.

Share ideas, guesses, and previous experiences.

Ask their own questions.

Step 2: EXPLORE (Investigation)

Mode: Group Work

Teacher's Activities:

- Divides the class into small groups.
- Gives each group a simple scenario (e.g., a small shop owner recording sales and expenses).
- Guides students to discuss why keeping such records is important.

Students' Activities:

- Discuss within groups.
- Examine the sample records.
- List reasons why keeping records is necessary.
- Present brief findings.

Step 3: EXPLAIN (Concept Formation)

Mode: Entire Class

Teacher's Activities:

Builds on students' responses to formally define Book Keeping:

What is Book Keeping?

Book Keeping is the systematic recording of financial transactions such as income, expenses, sales, and purchases for future reference and accountability.

Links the concept to continuous writing, explaining paragraph structure: introduction, body, and conclusion.

Students' Activities:

Listen attentively.

Take notes.

Ask clarification questions.

Step 4: ELABORATE (Application / Writing Task)

Mode: Individual

Teacher's Activities:

- Instructs students to write a continuous essay titled "The Importance of Book Keeping."
- Reminds them to organise their work into paragraphs and use linking words.

Students' Activities:

Write one or two paragraphs (80–120 words).

Apply vocabulary such as record, income, expenses, business, accountability, etc.

Step 5: EVALUATE (Reflection and Assessment)

Mode: Individual / Pair

Teacher's Activities:

- Invites a few students to read their essays aloud.
- Asks reflective questions:
 - What did you discover about Book Keeping today?
 - Why is it important in daily life?
- Gives corrective feedback on grammar, organisation, and clarity.

Students' Activities:

Read their work.

Reflect on what they learned.

Make corrections where necessary.

CLASS ACTIVITY:

Write a well-structured paragraph explaining how Book Keeping can help a school or small business.

ASSIGNMENT:

Write a continuous essay of not less than 150 words on "How Proper Record Keeping Prevents Financial Problems."
