

WEEK FIVE

EXPOSITORY ESSAY

A expository essay expects the writer to explain in detail the topic in question for better understanding by the reader. The writer is expected to have adequate information about the topic in question as it is designed to inform, instruct, explain, criticize or analyze some concepts or situations to the reader.

Topics related to expository essay

Dangers of drug abuse.

The dangers of premarital sex.

The future of the Nigeria youth.

How my favourite food is prepared.

Causes of indiscipline in Nigeria secondary schools.

The consequences of dressing indecently.

My English teacher, how I saw her/him.

Controlling HIV AIDS in Nigeria.

A friend in need is a friend indeed.

To write an expository essay, you are expected to have adequate information about the topic in question as it is designed to inform and educate the readers. E.g you may asked to explain the origin, causes and effects of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS).