

Structure: Adjunct of Place and Time

Define adjunct: An adjunct is used to add extra information to a sentence which creates an extra meaning and makes the sentence more specific.

Adjuncts are adverbs which answer the questions how, where, when, why, under what condition, to what degree, how often, for how long.

Adjunct of time

Adverb or adjunct of time answers the question when in relation to the verb in the main clause.

Examples

1. I went to his house yesterday
2. He wants to see his wife now
3. He has been writing here since
4. He was admitted into the college last year
5. The interview is tomorrow
6. He will arrive Lagos at 4 pm
7. Tonight is the day we have been waiting for.
8. We shall set out by dawn
9. Day before yesterday was Sunday
10. Week after next is Christmas.

Adjunct of place/direction

It answers the question where? Examples:

1. The food is on the table
2. The girl in front is my cousin.
3. I met her first in Lagos
4. Police killed two students on the campus
5. The ugly incident happened in the middle of the road.
6. The baby is sleeping in the bedroom
7. I was in the office when my wife returned
8. The pretty girl in the corner there is my sister.
9. Ring me up at my office
10. I saw the man on the campus.

Assignment

Answer questions on exercise page 157 of the New Oxford English language for Senior Secondary Schools book 1.