Mr Chairman, Panel of

honorable judges, Fellow debaters, Ladies and Gentlemen.

Boarding school offers a unique environment that fosters independence, academic excellence, and personal growth. Students live on campus, immersing themselves in a community that encourages learning, exploration, and friendship.

In boarding schools, students develop essential life skills like time management, self-reliance, and teamwork. They access state-of-the-art facilities, libraries, and technology, giving them an edge in their studies.

While some argue day schools provide family support, boarding schools offer a supportive community that helps students develop crucial social skills. With qualified teachers and mentors, students receive guidance and support tailored to their needs.

In conclusion, boarding school's structured environment, access to resources, and opportunities for growth make it a better choice than day school.
