

LESSON PLAN

Theme: Structure

Week:

Date:

Class: SS 1

Period:

Time:

Duration: 40 Minutes

Subject: English Language

Unit Topic: Adjuncts

Lesson Topic: Adjunct of Condition

Specific (Behavioural) Objectives

At the end of the lesson, students should be able to:

1. Define adjunct of condition.
2. Identify adjuncts of condition in sentences.
3. State common words that introduce adjuncts of condition.
4. Construct correct sentences using adjuncts of condition.

Instructional Resource

- Whiteboard
- Sentence strips
- Recommended text:

LESSON PRESENTATION

Step 1: IDENTIFICATION OF PRIOR IDEAS

Mode: A couple of students

Teacher's Activities:

Teacher asks the following questions:

1. What is an adverbial or adjunct?
2. What is a clause?
3. Can you give an example of a conditional sentence?

Students' Activities:

Students respond based on their previous knowledge of clauses and sentence types.

Step 2: EXPLORATION

Mode: Entire class

Teacher's Activities:

What is an Adjunct?

An adjunct is a word, phrase, or clause that adds extra information to a sentence. It often tells us about time, place, reason, manner, or condition.

What is an Adjunct of Condition?

An adjunct of condition is a word, phrase, or clause that expresses the condition under which something happens.

It usually answers the question:

Under what condition?

Common Words that Introduce Adjuncts of Condition:

- If
- Unless
- Provided (that)
- As long as
- On condition that
- In case

Examples:

1. If you study hard, you will pass.
2. You will succeed provided that you work diligently.
3. I will go with you if you invite me.
4. We shall travel unless it rains.

Teacher explains that these clauses depend on a condition being fulfilled.

Students' Activities:

Students listen attentively and repeat the examples.

Step 3: DISCUSSION

Mode: Entire class

Teacher guides students to identify adjuncts of condition in sentences.

S/N	Sentence	Adjunct of Condition
1	If it rains, we shall stay indoors.	If it rains

S/N	Sentence	Adjunct of Condition
2	You can join us provided that you are ready.	Provided that you are ready
3	Unless you apologize, I will not forgive you.	Unless you apologize
4	As long as you obey, you will succeed.	As long as you obey

Students identify more examples from their textbook.

Step 4: APPLICATION

Mode: A couple of students

Class Activity (Fill in the blanks):

1. _____ you work hard, you will pass the examination. (If)
2. I will help you _____ you tell me the truth. (provided that)
3. We will not go out _____ it stops raining. (unless)
4. You may stay here _____ you keep quiet. (as long as)

Students' Activities:

Students complete the exercise in their notebooks.

Step 5: EVALUATION

Mode: A couple of students

Teacher asks:

1. Define adjunct of condition.
2. Mention four words used to introduce adjuncts of condition.
3. Identify the adjunct of condition in this sentence:
“If you call me, I will respond.”
4. Construct two sentences using adjuncts of condition.

Students respond orally and in writing.

ASSIGNMENT

1. Write five sentences using different adjuncts of condition.
2. Identify the adjunct of condition in each sentence.

REFERENCE MATERIAL

- Oxford English Language Course Book 1
- Standard English Grammar Textbook