

Here is a clear and classroom-ready note:

Narrative Essay

Definition

A narrative essay is a type of writing that tells a story or describes an experience. It can be real or imagined, and it is usually written in a clear and interesting way to entertain or inform the reader.

Purpose of a Narrative Essay

To tell a story

To share personal experiences

To entertain the reader

To teach a lesson or moral

Structure of a Narrative Essay

Introduction

Introduces the story

Presents the main idea or topic

May include the setting (time and place)

Body

Tells the events in order (chronological order)

Includes characters, actions, and details

Builds up to the main event (climax)

Conclusion

Ends the story

Gives the outcome or lesson learned

May reflect on the experience

Features of a Good Narrative Essay

Clear Plot

The story has a beginning, middle, and end

Well-Defined Characters

The people or animals in the story are clearly described

Setting

The time and place of the story are clearly stated

Logical Sequence of Events

Events are arranged in order (chronologically)

Use of Descriptive Language

Vivid words that help the reader imagine the story

Use of Dialogue

Conversations between characters to make the story lively

First-Person or Third-Person Point of View

First-person: I, we

Third-person: he, she, they

Climax

The most exciting or important part of the story

Conflict

A problem or challenge in the story

Moral or Lesson (optional)

A message or lesson learned from the story

Example Topics

My First Day in Secondary School

A Day I Will Never Forget

An Unexpected Visitor

The Happiest Day of My Life

Conclusion

A good narrative essay tells an interesting and well-organized story. It uses clear language, proper structure, and engaging details to keep the reader interested.