

STUDENTS SUMMARY NOTE

SPEECH

Speech is the expression of thoughts and feelings through spoken words.

Oral Composition

Oral composition is the act of presenting ideas clearly through speaking.

Expository Speech

Expository speech is used to explain, inform or describe a topic clearly to listeners.

Examples of expository topics:

Importance of education

Effects of examination malpractice

Uses of modern technology

Discussion

Discussion is the exchange of ideas between two or more people on a particular topic.

Debate

Debate is a formal argument where speakers support or oppose a topic.

Rules of Debate

Speak clearly and confidently.

Respect opposing opinions.

Present logical points.

Avoid abusive language.

Importance of Good Speech

Improves communication skills

Builds confidence

Encourages critical thinking

Helps in public speaking

VOCABULARY

Vocabulary refers to the words used in a language.

Words Associated with Investment

Speculator

A person who buys and sells goods or shares hoping to make profit.

Profit Margin

The difference between cost price and selling price.

Bullish

A market condition where prices are rising.

Bearish

A market condition where prices are falling.

Dividends

Money paid to shareholders from company profits.

Bankruptcy

A condition where a person or company cannot pay debts.

Sentence Examples

The company paid high dividends this year.

Many investors became worried during the bearish market.

The trader was declared bankrupt after heavy losses.

COMPREHENSION/SUMMARY

Comprehension is the ability to read and understand a passage.

Summary is the shortening of a passage by stating only the main points.

Note Making

Note making involves writing down important points from a passage.

Steps in Note Making

Read the passage carefully.

Identify the main ideas.

Underline key points.

Write short and clear notes.

Importance of Note Making

Makes revision easier

Saves time

Improves understanding

Helps memory

STRUCTURE

Adjectival Clauses

An adjectival clause is a group of words that describes a noun or pronoun in a sentence.

It usually begins with words like:

who

whom whose

which that

Examples

The boy who won the prize is my brother.

This is the bag that I bought yesterday.

The teacher whose car was stolen reported to the police.

In the examples above, the underlined clauses describe nouns.

Functions of Adjectival Clauses

They give more information about nouns.

They make sentences clearer and more meaningful.