

LESSON PLAN

Theme: Continuous Writing

Week:

Date:,

Class: SS 1

Period:

Time:

Duration: 40 Minutes

Subject: English Language

Unit Topic: Continuous Writing

Lesson Topic: Speech Writing: An Address on a Prize Giving Day.

Specific (Behavioural) Objectives

At the end of the lesson, students should be able to:

1. Explain what speech writing is.
2. Identify at least three features of speech writing.
3. Read and analyse a sample speech.
4. Write a simple speech on a given topic.

Instructional Materials

1. Chart showing features of speech writing
2. Recommended textbook (New Concept English Book 1)
3. Whiteboard

Lesson Presentation

Step 1: Identification of Prior Ideas

Mode: Individual students

Teacher's Activities:

The teacher asks:

1. On occasions like a school ceremony, what do you think makes a speaker's message clear and interesting?
2. If you are given the opportunity to speak on your school's Prize Giving Day, what important ideas would you like to share with your audience?
3. What parts do you think a good speech should contain for it to be well-organized and easy to understand?
4. How should a speaker begin and end a speech in order to capture attention and leave a lasting impression?

Students' Activities:

Students respond based on prior knowledge.

Step 2: Exploration

Mode: Whole class

Teacher's Activities:

Guides students to understand speech writing.

What's speech writing?

Speech writing is the process of organizing ideas into a structured format for oral delivery.

Gives examples of occasions for speeches:

- Prize Giving Day.
- Birthday celebrations.

- Send-forth ceremonies.
- School events.

Teacher directs students to read a sample speech provided below:

Sample Speech Writing

A speech delivered by Miss Grace Daniel, the Head Girl of Government Secondary School, Tudun Wada, Wuse Zone 4, Abuja, on the occasion of the Graduation Ceremony held on 20th July, 2026, at the School Hall of Excellence.

The Principal, Vice Principals, Distinguished Guests, Members of Staff, Proud Parents, My Fellow Graduating Students, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I feel highly honoured to stand before you today to speak on the topic “Honest Labour.” This occasion marks not only the end of our secondary school journey but also the beginning of greater responsibilities in life.

Honest labour is the foundation of true success. In a world where many seek shortcuts to wealth and fame, we must remember that lasting achievement comes through diligence, integrity, and perseverance. As students, we have been taught that there is dignity in labour. Whether in academics, vocational skills, or daily responsibilities, honest effort always yields positive results.

Throughout our years in this school, we have faced challenges—difficult examinations, demanding assignments, and moments of discouragement. However, it is through consistent hard work that we have reached this important milestone today. This proves that honest labour truly pays.

Furthermore, honest labour builds character. It teaches us discipline, patience, and responsibility. These qualities are essential as we move into higher institutions and the larger society. We must resist the temptation to engage in malpractice, fraud, or any dishonest means of success. Instead, let us remain committed to doing what is right at all times.

To my fellow graduates, I urge you to uphold the values we have learned. Let us be ambassadors of honesty and hard work wherever we go. The future belongs to those who are willing to work for it with integrity.

In conclusion, honest labour is not just a virtue—it is a necessity for a meaningful and successful life. As we step into the next phase of our journey, let us carry this principle with us and practice it daily.

Thank you, and God bless you all.

Students' Activities:

Students listen attentively and read the sample speech.

Step 3: Discussion

Mode: Whole class

Teacher's Activities:

Teacher leads discussion on features of speech writing:

1. Title:

- Reflects the topic (e.g., Honest Labour)
- Should suit audience and purpose

2. Introduction

- Begins with greetings
- Captures audience attention.
- States purpose of speech.

3. Body

- Main ideas presented clearly.
- Supported with examples, stories, facts.
- Answers: who, what, where, when, why, how

4. Conclusion

- Summarizes key points.
- Ends memorably.

Students activities:

Students listen attentively, participate actively and take down notes.

Step 4: Application

Mode: Individual students

Teacher's Activities:

Teacher gives class exercise:

You are to deliver a speech on your school's Prize Giving Day titled "The Joy of Finishing Well." Outline your points.

Students' Activities:

Students write the outlines in their notebooks.

Step 5: Evaluation

Mode: Individual students

Teacher's Activities:

Teacher asks:

1. What is speech writing?
2. Mention three features of speech writing.
3. State two things you observed in the sample speech.
4. Give an example of opening greetings in a speech.

Students' Activities:

Respond to questions

Assignment

Write a full speech to be delivered on your school Prize Giving Day titled:
"The Joy of Finishing Well."

Reference Materials

Oxford English Language for Senior Secondary Schools Book 1

F. Ademola-Adeoye et al. (2012), New Concept English for Senior Secondary Schools, Book 1, Learn Africa Plc, Lagos (pp. 134–135).